The tollowing recommendations have been invisible gratuitiously—

Louisville, Jan. 27, 1851.

The Lightning Conductors on the plan of J. Spratt, of Cincinnati, appear to be very well devised, and in point of mechanical consumetion, are the best I have ever scene.

It is to be hoped that the use of these rods may become general as an insportant auxiliary defence against a danger which must be regarded as of no ordinary magnitude, to which all buildings are liable.

B. SILLIMAN, Jr. Prof. of Chem. in the Univ. of Louisville.

Prof. of Chem. in the Univ. of Louisville.

This will cartify that I have examined the Lightning Rods, Merallic Points, and Insularing Attachments, mondreared by Mr. Spratt, of Chericarti, Unio, and regard then as constantial neodomisty to the general laws of the stearing fluid; and the Gilded Copper Branched Points, as promising, from the rasults of several tests to which they were submitted, to resist to years the action of those almospheric causes most likely to corrode them.

WANTED

AN INTELLIGENT boy, of steady habits, to Al leave the printing beariness, to whom a good situation will be given; apply at this office unnefinitely.

UT Yestorday we saw table of the bills for the consumption of Gaz, which were made out by "Mr. Jones," under the auspices of those who claim to be the Directors of the Company, by what we contend was an illegal election. Some of the bills were very remarkable; in one case a conaumer was charged for about seven times as much Can as what the Motor indicates has been consumed; and we have heard of others equally inaccurate. At the bottom of the bills is a printed guaranty to the consumers that they shall not be liable to pay to any other persons claiming to be officers of the Company; appended to this are the rumes, in print, of Henry Bull, Samuel Hags, William G. Peckham and Silas H. Cottrell. We should like to know what such a guaranty is worth in liw, the names being printed, instead of written, if these gentlemen should be pleased to deny the guaranty? Not the paper that the names are upon. These gentlemen are pursuing their most extraordinary course with the speed of men who are conscious that they are wrong, and with a vladictiveness that is n stranger to honor.

OUR OLDEST MAX.-Is there one in age older than the venorable RICHARD HAZ-ARD? The late Thomas Coggeshall said that in 1776 Mr. Hazard told kim that since he was free, or twenty-one years of age, he had carned his wagon, oxen and atensits with which he teamed supplies for the army then on this Island. He was then twenty-two years old. This will make him on April 3d, next, One hundren and one years of age. Our worthy Overseer of the Poor, says Mr. H. was twelve years older than his father, Thomas Hazard, who died in 1826, at 60 years of ago.— He added, that he was born on the birth day of his father, when he was twenty-six y ars old; and he himself on the third of this month, will be sixty-three years old .-This also makes Mr. R. Hazard One hunfired and one years of age he third of the month ensuing.

The family bible of Mr. R. Hazard is not now to be found; nor is there any record of his family in the Clerk's office. important it is that the family Register should be carefully preserved at home, and a faithful entry be made at the offices of City and Town Clerks?

Tr Judge Edwards of the Supreme Court, New York, died on Tuesday last; be was an able lawyer and an upright Judge It will not be an exsy matter to fill his place, either on the bench or in society.

Mail Robbery .- The Cleveland Herald states that various robberies of the mails at the Salem post office, in Ohio, have been committed by Thomas J. Walton, a clerk in that office, and Joseph S. Wilson, a son of the post-master. They are both young men, and have been arrested.

American Cabbines in England.-On Thursday the officers of customs inspected a number of Sharp's carbines, which have been so highly spoken of in America, This importation, it is believed, is for the Government. The weapon is one of the most unique which our transatlantic brothren have yet lorwarded. Such is the facility with " which the carbine can be handled that it can be fired ton times a minute, and when discharged over the water a second charge was fired before the ricochet on the first had Wrom the absenvations of the orduance officers of the American Government the board were of opinion that it was the superior to any other of the arms loaded at the breach, and it was immediately adopt ed in the military service. Already ten large cases of these carbines have arrived. These rifles are manufactured by Robbins & Lawrence at Windsor, Vermont, and Hartford, Councetient, for Sharp's Rifle Manufacturing Company .- English paper

Dr Bocker and several other German theorists have been making for several years a series of dietetic experiments, which have resulted in proving-according to their tes timony-that water is an extravagance creating an increased demand for food and is a luxury for the rich man but too expensive for a poor one, as the more water drank the more food needed. They also conclude,the "alcohol is a box for saving," as a moderate drinker needs less food, an that little lasts for a longer time than i mixed up with water; that liquor prevente the wear and tear of the system, counteracts, the degressing influence of proverty and should be looked on as a God-send e-pocially by the poorer classes.

Honorable .- The clergymen of this city, who received a donation of $1000 a few days since, was Rov. Dr. Gannet of the Federal street church. The late Edward Renouf, Esq., of this city, who had been an attendant at Dr. Gannett's church, had expressed his intention, in the presence of his eon, Edward A. Renouf, an Episcopal clergyman, to bequeath $1000 to Dr. Gannet, but had neglected to insert the hequest in his will. Immediately after his father's section by providing that pursous employed | depth. Rev. E. A. Renouf tendered the sum to Dr. Gannett, stating what had been his father's intention, but Dr. Gannett declined peremptorlly, declaring that he did not consider himself entitled to receive the money. At last Mr. Renouf persuaded him to abide by the decision of three referees, who were selected from among his parishioners, and these having unanimously decired in tayor of the acceptance, all scruples were overcome. The affair shows a nice sense of honor, and reflects credit on all concerned .- Boston Allas.

> An Apothecary's Joke .- The Springfield Republican says that in North Adams, a few days ago, a number of young men who were bent upon having a good time deput-ed one of their number to procure some brandy. The messenger represented to the apathecary that it was wanted for hathing purposes, and after some persuasion pro-cured the desired article. The apothecary hawever, suspecting something wrong mixed a little antimony with the liquor be fore it left his hands. The consequence was that those who drank the brandy began to complain of illness, and finally imagined themselves poisoned. One hastened home to die in the bosom of his family, another made his will, and a third commenced repeating a prayer. They all, however recovered eventually, and prosecuted the apothecary for a violation of the liquor law

Some very useful essays on erecting buildings, so as to secure them against fire, are being published in the New York Journal of Commerce, by an architect. A recent one is upon the construction of staircases, which, according to the present mode of construction, are generally the chief means of communicating fire from one part of the house to another This danger could be entirely averted in houses of a common kind, by flooring narrow halls with flagging. From it a light staircase of iron might be raised to the flagging of the respective stories, which would be supported by the brick walls. The under surface of the flagging may be stabled, as it is technically eniled, to receive a conting of plaster. A base or footboard of stone might be used Paint would give to all this a light and cheerful appearance; and not only the flagging but the stairs, for greater comfort, be carpeted by the occupant.

How to Make Home Intolerable .- A lady correspondent of the Philadelphia Sat urday Evening Post suggests the following infallible method of accomplishing the anove named end: "A neat p easant wifenice ten things, glittering on the tablehot cakes and colles. Husband comes in looks around for a newspaper, wholly absorbed in it while the relish is dished up and set on the table-all sit down-husband looks round every now and then at the time-piece - bolts his supper-rises from the table while the rest are finishing -puts on his coat-takes, his but and con--burries off to some place of amusementsome lecture-some reading room, or some where. Comes home at ten-twelve-not particular as to hour-finds wife in bed, whose heart perhaps has sobbed itself to

THE VILLAINY OF BACHELORISM.—The marriage of Julia Dean has changed adulation in some quarters to bitterness of spirit. Now that the fair Julia is murried, mys the editor of the Mobile Register, who is a bachelor, with naught to hope, it will be considered no sin to say that she was vastly overrated as an actress. We are not aware that she ever played any part with more than second or third rate skill. Her reading of the poets was very imperfectrarely doing it as though she understood what they meant. Her defects of manner were also extremely unpleasant. In short, we should say as we have often thought-that she has very little studied her art, or has very little capacity for it .--But, then, with all her defects, she was a graceful, soft, fresh, and rather pretty woman; with a character for purity and womanly delicacy which always takes 'Young America" captive-to its honor be it said.

AGE OF OYSTERS. A London oysterman can tell the ages of his flock to a nicety.-The age of an oyster is to be found out by looking into its mouth. It bears its year upon its back. Everybody who has handled an oyster-shell must have observed that it seemed as if composed of successive layers of plates overleaping each other. - ! These are technically termed "shoots," and each of them marks a year's growth ; so that by counting them, we can determine at a glance the year when the creature came into the world. Up to the time of its maturity, the shoots are regular and successive; but after that time they become irregular, and are piled one over the other so that the shell becomes more and more thickened and bulky. Judging from the great thickness to which some oyster shells have attained this molluse is capable, if left to its natural nges unmolested, of attaining a patriarchial longevity:

Miss Courts. A New York paper says:—"Miss 'Courts' was present at the farewell performances of Mario. She was dressed in the same style of fashionable splender. Of the sixty-two performances splendor. Of the sixty-two performances given by Grisi in this country, she heard all out seven-when Mario was ill.—She paid Mr. Hackett for choice sents $1100. Miss *Costs did not sail in the steamer with Grisi and Mario. She is still at the St. Nicholas Hotel, and will probably make a trip to the South before her return,"

SOAP I SOAP II

THE subscriber is now prepared to furnish the highly colebrated American Cream, American Lammiry, American Manufacuteres Soap, and Gream Soap, preparation. These soaps are presented to the public with the follest confidence in their superiority and utility. A fair trial according to the directions given below, cannot fail to be entirely satisficatory; and an argoment more conclusive than pages of certificates and recommundations. A fair trial is all lask. These soaps do the work of the Laundry in the best manner in cold water, either hard or soft, or salt, dispensing entirely with bodings, pounding, washing machines, &c., without injury to the most delicate fabric. In cold weather, health may render it advisable to take the chill off the water.

The tendency of these coaps is to soften the clother and losen the hold of the dirt, without injury.
